

DBMI OPEN INSIGHTS

PRESENTED BY
DEPARTMENT OF BIOMEDICAL INFORMATICS
HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL

bit.ly/open-insights-dbmi

Prioritizing Patients: A Geometric Point of View

Eitan Bachmat, PhD

Associate Professor
Ben-Gurion University of the Negev

Monday, September 30, 2024

12:00–1:00pm | Free Pizza Lunch 11:30am

Lahey Room (5th Floor), Countway Library
Virtual option with pre-registration

Ben-Gurion University of the Negev

The DBMI Open Insights Seminars are occasional research talks related to the mission of the Department of Biomedical Informatics. This includes themes such as:

- Provisioning big data to the scientific community
- Getting the big picture on human health
- Learning from each patient
- Advancing basic science with data science
- Understanding disease beyond heredity: environmental impact
- Instrumenting the health enterprise for discovery and intervention

HARVARD
MEDICAL SCHOOL

BLAVATNIK INSTITUTE
BIOMEDICAL INFORMATICS